We stand by yesterday's shadow

and wonder at tomorrow

building each new dream

in crowds
and silence

in darkness

and the light of day

We flounder and grasp

and laugh
and weep

each knowing feelings untouched by words

So shall we find ourselves

in each new day

and at last

The answers lie somewhere
at the bottom of the day

Student Activities

Ma-ie Day 1969

Ma-ie Day, the day signifying the beginning of the planting season and a day of festivity, began with the crowning of the 36th Princess Attira, Suzi Mortensen, the "ruler of grain." The traditional student holiday with the parade of floats centered on the theme, the musical "Carousel." A new activity sprang into being with the creation of the mini-est mini booth sponsored by Circle K. The sights included the traditional kissing booth, the pie throwing contest, the dunking stool, the trivia bowl, and the intra-mural races. The afternoon folk rock concert featured Zager and Evans singing their hit "2525."

Ma-ie Day

Homecoming

"American Heritage" was the theme of the 1969 Homecoming. Festivities began with the crowning of Linda Backora and a dance with the LA Carnival. Other events were a paint-in, Powder Puff football game, car bash, and a concert by the Brooklyn Bridge. Homecoming concluded with the traditional football game which saw the Indians defeat K-state 25-14. Saturday evening a formal dance was held.

Student Senate

The Student Senate is composed of elected members from the various colleges on campus. The function of the Senate is to aid the Administration in the policy making of UNO.

University Senate

The University Senate is a body formulated to assist the Administration and the Student Senate in the policy making of the University. The University Senate is composed of various faculty representatives from the different colleges of the University. In addition the University Senate is responsible for various sub-committees which deal with specific areas of academic life.

Moratorium

UNO students and faculty were the participants of a peaceful demonstration Wednesday, October 15, 1969, as hundreds voiced opinions on the United States' position in Vietnam. Students handed out literature and participated in activities from 7:00 a.m. until 9:30 p.m. Activities included scheduled speakers, a speak out for students and interested persons, a march to Memorial Park, and finally a dance at UNO.

A dance, a list of black student demands, a sit-in, police, and a general upheaval of university life characterized November 11, 1969 at UNO. Approximately 100 students participated in a sit-in in Dr. Naylor's office. The group mainly responsible for the sit-in was an organization known as BLAC. The outcome of the protest was to point up many outdated practices of the University.

The "house" was the theme of the 1969 Night Club sponsored by the Special Events Committee. It was held October 20-25. The entertainment was provided by a singing group composed of three girls called "We the Living." The "Westministers" provided music for the dance. The theme of the Night Club was carried out as viewers were asked to bring their own pillows!

Student Publications

Putting out a newspaper can, at times, be a task to either be enjoyed or dreaded. Jerry Flood, left, was the fall GATEWAY Editor. Jerry, at bottom, expresses a feeling of disbelief at an issue of his paper. Randy Owens, right, was the spring editor of the GATEWAY. Randy, too, is seen experiencing the trials and tribulations of an editor.

Theater

"My Three Angels"

The opening production of the UNO theatrical season was the presentation of "My Three Angels," a lighthearted comedy by Sam and Bella Spewack. Three local convicts are "reformed" and eventually become "angels" to the Ducotel general store. Members of the cast included: Walter Barry, Cathy Davis, Marjanne Fischer, John Johnston, James Stowe, Steve Wheeldon, Jim Fitzpatrick, Calvin Montgomery, Mike Penton and Carole Versaci.

UNO's players dramatized and recreated the 1692 Salem, Massachusetts, witch trials through Arthur Miller's play, "The Crucible." "The Crucible" was the story of John Proctor, his wife, and Abigail Williams, and the extent to which desire can often go.

Among those giving excellent performances were, Barbara Ross as Abigail, Carole Versaci as Elizabeth Proctor, and John Englebreetsen as John Proctor. Also included in the cast were: Richard Mayfield, David K. Johnson, Steve Eskew, Mary Phillips, Mary Waren, Lola Bishop, and Mary Kessler.

Three One-Act Plays

The University Theater annually presents an evening of student-directed one-act plays. Last year's selections included Jerry Watson's "The Little Green Apples" starring Jim Hough, Marianne Fisher and Brian Thomas; Ramon Delgado's "Waiting For the Bus" directed by John Englebreetsen and starring Isabel Anderson, Louis Bozak, Alison Strain and Louis Basilico; and Tennessee Williams' "Talk To Me Like the Rain and Let Me Listen . . ." directed by Christine Hovey and starring Ralph Murphey and Barbara Wolcott.

Opera Theatre

The University Opera Theatre not only presents programs during the regular school year, but also participates in a summer work shop. 1969's summer opera was Puccini's "Gianni Schicchi." Other recent productions include "A Hand of Bridge," "The Impresario," "A Turk in Italy," and in February "Triumph of Honor."

Alpha Xi Delta -- A Ξ Δ

Alpha Xi Delta started the busy year off successfully by capturing Homecoming. Linda Backora was named Homecoming Princess before cheering fans at the Pep Bowl bonfire. Student Senate duties kept Alpha Xi's Collen Murphy and Rosey Weiss busy for the year. Among Greek Royalty were Sue Redinger, Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl; Linda Mullenax, Lambda Chi Alpha Pledge Sweetheart; and Cheryl Rowe, Theta Chi Dream Girl. Kathy Biga served her sorority as Panhellenic representative and she was the Council's secretary. Cheryl Eby served during 1969-70 as Alpha Xi Delta president.

Sigma Kappa -- ΣK

Sigma Kappa began the year with a song by capturing the Sig Ep Sing trophy at Carter Lake. Alpha Epsilon Pi took men's singing honors. For the second year in a row Sigma Kappa collected the most toys for the Toys for Tots Dance, taking first in that also. Judy Benson spent a busy year as Sigma Kappa's representative to Panhellenic Council. Judy served as president of the Council this year. She was also Sigma Kappa's Student Senate representative. Mark Daly of Lambda Chi Alpha was crowned Sigma Kappa Casino King at the All-Greek Casino Party in October. Sue Kroupa served as this year's Sigma Kappa president.

Gamma Phi Beta Γ Φ Β

In October Gamma Phi Beta joined the four other national sororities on the UNO campus. It was the first sorority to be added in 20 years.

Gamma Phi Beta was founded at Syracuse University in 1874. Other chapters in Nebraska are at the University of Nebraska, and at Kearney State College.

On January 29, the Gamma Phi's challenged the KOIL Good Guys to a game of basketball. Well balanced skill produced a 42-42 tie.

The sorority's philanthropies are many, both on the international and local levels, with a special emphasis on work with underprivileged children.

Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils

The Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils unite social Greek organizations at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. Panhellenic Council, composed of one delegate and the president of each sorority, meets regularly to set up the laws governing sororities and to discuss campus problems.

Dean Elizabeth Hill this year completed her last year as Panhellenic sponsor. Judy Benson was this year's Panhellenic president.

Men's organizations are governed by the Interfraternity Council, sponsored by Fred Ray. The IFC, made up of delegates from the six campus fraternities, works with Panhellenic to organize Greek week each spring. Larry Saxton is the Interfraternity president.

The UNO football team ended the 1969 season with a 3-6 record and placed fourth in the newly formed Plains Division of the Rocky Mountain Conference. The Indians finished the season on a winning note, downing the Coyotes of South Dakota 26-16, the first victory over a non-conference foe in three years. Running back Phil Wise had a record-breaking season. Wise set a new record for TD's in one season with 15, breaking the old record of 13. The 15 tallies also gave him the individual scoring record of 90 points, bettering the season rushing former Indiana great Bill Englehart's mark of 88. He also broke the season rushing record gaining 1,148 yards; this record was formerly held by Gerald Allen, now a professional football standout. Head Coach Al Caniglia will undoubtedly feel the loss of 11 outstanding graduating gridgers. They are: Rich Redlinger, Gary Paporello, Don Franklin, Fran Reagan, Rich Emsick, Tom McGinn, Bob Kreitner, Ed Jackson, Dom Polifrone, Stan Standifer, and Tom McKernan.

UNO football standouts Dom Polifrone, R. Emsick, Phil Wise and M. Washington were presented with "Golden Helmet Awards" on Friday, January 30, 1970. The four were selected for the awards, presented annually by the Omaha Coca-Cola Bottling Company, by UNO's coaching staff. The presentations were made by University President Kirk Naylor.

Coach Don Benning's 1969-1970 wrestling team made history when they disposed of their last opponent, Northwest Missouri State, 35-5. The Indians ended the season the proud owner of a 14-0 record and were the first undefeated wrestling team in the history of the University of Nebraska at Omaha. Throughout the year the Indians dominated most of the weight classes against their opponents and showed championship depth in new wrestling prospects. Roy Washington, a name feared by all of his Rocky Mountain Conference opponents, closed out a four-year mat career with a 82-6-1 record. Washington, a two-time NAIA champion at 150 pounds, will be remembered as one of the finest if not the best wrestler in the 16-year history of the sport at this University.

Although the Cross-Country team was plagued by injuries throughout the season, they ended the season with an impressive 8-1 record. Their only loss came from a tough Doane team. In the RMAC Championships, Coach Lloyd Cardwell's crew captured sixth place and finished third in the NAIA District 11 meet. Rich Carey paced the team by placing 23rd in the RMAC Championship and third in the NAIA District 11. Also adding strength to the team were Pat Rinn, Chuck Wallerstedt, Wayne Boldt, Dave Olson and Don Jacobson, indoor and outdoor track suffered from team injuries. At the end of the season the track squad's indoor record stood at 6-3 and the rash number of injuries forced outdoor competition to end prematurely. Newly groomed freshman Tom McCormick showed great depth for next year's team. Team Captain Rich Carey ended a successful track career and is the only graduating member of the team.

Basketball

In his first year as head basketball coach, Bob Hanson led the Indians to a 15-10 season and the Plains Division Title of the Rocky Mountain Conference. The basketballers clinched the title in the last game of the season, downing Fort Hays 84-80. The title brought Bob Hanson and his Indians the best season since the 15-10 of 1954-55. Varsity basketballers lost this year through graduation are: Steve Kupcho, Jim Etter and Len Todd. The newly revived Junior Varsity under Coach Jim Seward ended the season with a 9-6 record, promising good depth for next year's varsity.

Our kindness, thoroughness, fairness, sincerity, hypocrisy, what are they but names given to the waves of the sea of spirit? Who can tell where sincerity merges into humility, and where it folds itself over and becomes hypocrisy, and where it touches self-righteousness? When does generosity become ostentatiousness, or kindness weakness, or weakness heroism, or heroism love of display?
And how often do modesty's eyelids fall
over the glowing eyes of pride?

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom,
and the man that getteth understanding.

For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold.

An historical survey of the humanities can provide a satisfying sense of cultural cohesion. It can also provide a reassuring sense of community.

But it fails if it does not spark, at last, a non-historical, purely personal commitment of one discrete entity for another: this person for that poem, painting, or symphony.

To paraphrase Pater, "the arts come to you, proposing frankly to give you nothing but the highest quality to your moments as they pass, and simply for those moments' sake." These are among those rare moments which make life worth living.

Dr. R. L. Lane

Dr. Stanley Trickett

Why study history? That's a good question, and there are many answers. Perhaps, insofar as I am concerned it is because I believe that, "Those who cannot remember the past," as Santayana put it, "are condemned to repeat it."

It is doubtful what mankind could survive a repetition of recent history, and to avoid an experience with the possibility of such dire consequences, it is necessary to understand the important lessons which a careful study of the past teaches the student. What are some of these lessons?

— that liberty is among the most priceless possessions of mankind and that just government is impossible without freedom;

— that an ordered society results when men learn to discipline themselves and handle power properly; and, conversely, that harm ensues when power is allowed to possess.

— that real progress comes slowly and is the result of the application of reason and moderation in the solution of human problems; such study reveals that leaders who set out to remake the world in an instant are usually demagogues seeking to incite the passions and seduce the reason of man.

As important, however, as the stern lessons which history teaches, the study and reading of such subject matter provides perspective for our daily living. Browsing through books, often old and forgotten, helps "tune out" the confusion and clamor of our times and assists the mind in the making of meaningful judgments on human problems.

"I don't really see a peaceful future for the average American university. At heart, administrators, faculty, and students are all people, and they won't always see eye to eye. Besides, a university is a place where ideas should be constantly popping to the surface — and they won't always be harmonious ideas. But a university is also a place where reason should prevail, and if the people on campus will exercise reason — if they will work through conversation rather than confrontation — they should make real progress."

Great Teachers Awards

Presentation of the first two "Great Teacher Awards" in University history highlighted mid-year commencement exercises at 10 a.m., January 24. Receiving the honors were Gary Blum, assistant professor of philosophy, and Dr. Gene Newport, professor of management. Blum and Newport were among 50 faculty members nominated by more than 200 student, faculty and alumni. The two teachers each received a $1,000 cash award in addition to a plaque and a certificate of recognition. Mr. Blum and Dr. Newport were chosen on the basis of ability as a classroom teacher.
